REPORT FROM THE CHAIRS

THANK YOU TO ALL OUR BENEFactors FOR YOUR PHILANTHROPIC SUPPORT FOR OUR STUDENTS IN 2015.

Mr CharlieTaylor
Chair of Council

Mr Niall Cairns
Chairman of the Foundation

In 2015 we continued to build the culture of philanthropy at St Andrew’s, raising $546,220 in gifts and pledges for scholarships, bursaries and capital works projects.

Partnering with our community we raised funds for over five new scholarships for students from rural and regional Australia and government schools. We also added ten new scholarships to support senior undergraduate students in their fourth and later years at College, recognising the increasing financial need of our students the longer they remain in College. We look forward to introducing you to these students over the coming months.

The enthusiastic response from students, Council then undertook to refurbish the remaining fifty bedrooms in Thyne during the 2015–2016 summer break, completing a $2M project that ensures all students living in Thyne share the same high quality accommodation. These bedrooms, which were once the least popular in College, are now home to third and later year undergraduates. Council is now planning its next series of bedroom upgrades within the context of the Harper Master Plan, including bedrooms in Reid and the Main Building. We have already commenced refurbishments of Main Building bedrooms and, thanks to Annual Giving, we raised funds from alumni and parents to refurbish Room 82. You can read more about Annual Giving on page 8.

We were pleased to finish the refurbishment to the Thyne 400 bedrooms just in time for the Freshers’ return in late February 2015. These bedrooms set a new standard for existing bedrooms in the College. Inspired by the enthusiastic response from students, Council then undertook to refurbish the remaining fifty bedrooms in Thyne during the 2015–2016 summer break, completing a $2M project that ensures all students living in Thyne share the same high quality accommodation. These bedrooms, which were once the least popular in College, are now home to third and later year undergraduates. Council is now planning its next series of bedroom upgrades within the context of the Harper Master Plan, including bedrooms in Reid and the Main Building. We have already commenced refurbishments of Main Building bedrooms and, thanks to Annual Giving, we raised funds from alumni and parents to refurbish Room 82. You can read more about Annual Giving on page 8.

In 2015, we also completed the foundational work required to ensure that the Foundation is able to continue supporting our students and the Council through effective fundraising and stewardship of our endowment. At the AGM in June the Members of the Foundation voted to create a new Foundation Trust to bring the SAC Foundation in line with the ATO’s Public Ancillary Fund Guidelines. The transition is now complete and once again we would like to thank Alex Mufford (Fr 1986), Seema Mishra and their team at Henry Davis York for their assistance during this transition.

In the final step of the Foundation’s series of Reviews, the Board resolved to undertake a review of the management of the Foundation’s investments. As the Ord Minnett portfolio includes both Foundation and Council funds, the Review considered both portfolios. The Board appointed Russell Bye (Fr 1973) to lead the sub-committee that included Campbell Hanan, as the representative of Council, and Niall Cairns. The Investment Review made several recommendations, including a review of the long term strategic asset allocations in support of the Council and Foundation’s cash requirements for the Harper Master Plan and the Scholarships and Bursaries program. In considering the Investment Committee, Council appointed two new Councillors to the Investment Committee, Campbell Hanan (Fr 1989) and Craig Blair (Fr 1987).

Finally, the Review recommended that the Foundation and Council continue to work with Ord Minnett, which was supported by both Council and the Foundation Board. We would like to thank Andrew Murray (Fr 1961) and the Investment Committee for their wise stewardship of our endowment.

We would also like to thank Fiona McQueen, the College’s Director of Advancement and Foundation’s Executive Officer, for her work to manage the Foundation’s Reviews and to continue to manage and develop our philanthropic programs.

We are now looking to the future. Currently, we are undertaking planning and preparation for a campaign to support scholarships and bursaries and capital projects within the Harper Master Plan. We look forward to sharing our plans with you as they develop.

Mr Charlie Taylor
Chair of the Council

Mr Niall Cairns
Chairman of the Foundation
In 2015 the College and SAC Foundation received $546,220 in gifts and pledges from 167 donors in support of our students via Scholarships and Bursaries, Capital Works and the General Fund.

It is an honour to once again thank all our generous benefactors for their ongoing support for our students in 2015. Together we are creating a culture of philanthropy that benefits the whole St Andrew's community.

In 2015, we established over fifteen new scholarships to be awarded in 2016, including the Taylor Scholarships for senior undergraduates, thanks to a generous gift from Chair of Council Charlie Taylor (Fr 1982), and from the Blackwood Foundation Scholarship, thanks to the generosity of alumnus Edward Martin (Fr 2002) and his family.

Of course, with news of these prominent gifts it is easy to respond: What can I do to help? My small gift won't have an impact. That couldn't be further from the truth. Last year in Annual Giving, we asked our community to help us create new scholarships for students from rural and regional Australia and your response was overwhelming. Together, the 'small' gifts created a new scholarship of $12,000 a year for three years for a student who wouldn't otherwise be able to afford College fees. This means, thanks to your help, that for the next three years a student will be able to fully enjoy a home at College within the Andrew's community.

Continuing to grow our scholarship endowment, such as we do when we give to the Indigenous Scholarship Fund or Alumni Society Scholarship, creates long term certainty that we can support our students in the future. Again, endowed scholarships can be established by one benefactor, or by many benefactors coming together to collectively give to the same scholarship, as the 1990 Freshers did in 2015. Over time, they will raise funds to establish a scholarship that will distribute $6,000 each year; one which they can continue to contribute to as their circumstances permit.

We are also finalising our plans for the first stage of the Harper Master Plan. Thanks to a consistently full College and prudent financial management of both the College's operations and endowment, it could be argued that Council can afford to fund these and other projects. Philanthropy gives us the chance to partner with Council to maximise opportunities to develop world-class accommodation for students. For instance, the first phase of the Thyne refurbishment became necessary over the summer of 2014–15 as there were significant and urgent works required in the lower ground floor bedrooms.

Thanks to philanthropy, that project was fully funded and as a result the College could undertake to install a new electronic lock system throughout College. This system is far more secure and easier for students to use and has removed the need for students to pay a $100 deposit when they enter College – removing an extra cost for our cash-strapped students.

This project was not so urgent, or glamorous, that we would seek philanthropic support for it, but it has certainly improved our students’ experience at College. When you give to the College, your gift often pays for more than just the project you're supporting!
Of course, philanthropy isn’t just about giving money. Our volunteers give their valuable time and expertise to the College. The Students’ Club is enormously grateful to our alumni and parents who took the time to share their professional experiences at Careers’ Week in August. I would also like to thank Council, the Foundation Board of Management and our volunteers for their valuable advice and support in 2015.

Most importantly, through philanthropy our community comes together to support the students who are here at College, from the history student who is working in our College archives, to the future osteopathic surgeon, our students are, and will always be, our reason for giving.

Thank you again for your generosity.

Fiona McQueen
Director of Advancement
Executive Officer, SAC Foundation

PHILANTHROPY
AT ST ANDREW’S

SCHOLARSHIPS AND BURSARIES
St Andrew’s received $405,972 in gifts and pledges to the Scholarships and Bursaries Fund.

I would like to thank our 1990 Freshers, led by Doug Arnott and Adam Casselden, who have banded together to raise $125,000 for an endowed scholarship. To date they have raised $53,000 in gifts and pledges.

CAPITAL WORKS
In 2015, the College received $14,500 in gifts for capital works projects. A group of alumni, led by Arthur Johnson (Fr 1957), raised $2,500 to restore the Ray Crooke painting, Native in North Queensland Cottage, which they bought in memory of their friend Robert Crooke (Fr 1958). This painting hangs in the Senior Common Room.

ANNUAL GIVING
Annual Giving raised $97,898 in gifts and pledges.

In 2015, for the first time, the College sought support for rural and regional scholarships. This particular appeal was extremely successful, generating three new three-year scholarships for rural and regional students. Following this result, rural and regional scholarships will be a focus for the College’s fundraising efforts in its Scholarships Campaign.

GIVING BY FUND:

GIVING BY DONOR:
THE DICK SPANN CIRCLE

St Andrew’s greatly appreciates our alumni and friends who have indicated that they have left a bequest to the College. These generous supporters of our community are members of the Dick Spann Circle.

The Dick Spann Circle honours Professor Richard N Spann, who was the Vice Principal of College and Senior Fellow from 1954 until his death in 1981. During that time, Dick Spann, as he was affectionately known, was the Professor of Government and Public Administration at the University of Sydney. With his door always open to students, Dick Spann was a much-loved member of College, especially in the Senior Common Room. He bequeathed over 12,000 volumes of his library to the College, which are housed in the Dick Spann Library in the Main Building.

In 2011, the Dick Spann Circle was created to honour Spann’s memory, and the generosity of members of our community who have indicated that they have left a bequest in their will. Each year, the Dick Spann Circle holds a lunch for its Members, at which they receive an update about the College from the Principal and share tales of College life with current students.

In his letter to Rev John Kinross dated 17th January 1884, John Struth, a Presbyterian engineer, enclosed ‘a cheque for one thousand pounds for the purpose of founding a scholarship in St Andrew’s College Sydney University to be called the “Struth Scholarship”’. With this act, Struth created what is possibly St Andrew’s first named scholarship.

John Struth made his fortune in Australia as an independent engineer, both mechanical and marine. He was born in southern Scotland in 1804, learned his trade through an apprenticeship in England and came to Australia with his wife Alison in 1832. By 1840 he had his own steam flour-mill and an impressive wharf on Darling Harbour. He built a large plant beside his wharf, where he manufactured a wide variety of metal goods, including ships’ engines.

He rapidly amassed a substantial fortune, but suffered domestic tragedies in the mid-1840s, including Alison’s death, and gradually withdrew from business. He sold out advantageously in 1854 and soon afterwards returned to Britain with his only surviving son. In 1866 he returned to Sydney and bought a large house in Phillip Street.

Struth had no formal relationship with the College – he was not an alumnus or Councillor – but was a dedicated Presbyterian and he gave generously in old age, not least to St Andrew’s College, to which, in addition to a well-endowed scholarship, he donated a fine stained glass window in 1884, showing the great Scottish engineers, James Watt and George Stephenson.

What is remarkable about Struth’s Scholarship is how relevant the stipulated conditions for awarding the scholarship are to St Andrew’s today. First among those conditions is that the Principal shall ‘receive satisfactory assurance that the means of the applicant and his parents are unequal to the expense of the College…’ reflecting a desire from Struth that the Scholarship be given to a student with demonstrated financial need. This is similar to the College’s current means-tested bursary program, which requires applicants to provide information about their financial circumstances so that the College can ensure that bursaries are given to those with financial need.

Struth also allowed for recipients to receive the scholarship for more than one year, as long as they passed ‘...creditably the College and University examinations at the end of the ... year...’. Today, the College can still award scholarships for the duration of a student’s residence.

Struth even stipulated that the Scholarship should be managed in a similar manner to today’s endowed scholarships. In modern terms, Struth’s gift was approximately $120,000 – enough to create an endowed scholarship – and he directed the College to invest the funds and ensure the annual value of the scholarship should be determined by the ‘net investment of the one thousand pounds’. St Andrew’s currently distributes 5% of a Scholarship Fund each year, reinvesting any surplus earnings. This ensures that a Scholarship can maintain its value in real terms over time. Today, Struth’s Scholarship would provide $6,000 in support to a student.

Unfortunately the Struth Scholarship endowment no longer exists; however, the Council has continued to honour the legacy of this generous Scottish engineer by continuing to name a scholarship from the general scholarship fund in his honour.

Struth passed away in 1886 aged 82. In the 131 years since Struth’s letter to Kinross, his Scholarship has supported dozens of Andrew’s men and women. If you received a Struth Scholarship, the College would welcome your story to continue the tale of the impact of John Struth’s legacy.

The overall objective of the Foundation Board of Management is to work with the Investment Committee and Investment Managers to maintain the real endowment in real terms over time by aiming to provide annual returns of 4% above CPI over a period of at least 5 years.

In order to achieve this aim, the target asset allocation of the Foundation is to have 65% of the funds in growth assets such as Australian and International equities with the remaining 35% in interest rate securities, term deposits and cash. For much of the 2015 year the short term allocation has been lowered to 55/45 due to concerns about economic instability and market weakness.

For the 2015 year, the performance of the Fund was 5.9%, which compares favourably with the Balanced Fund Benchmark for the year of 3.3% and the All Ordinaries Accumulation Index of 3.8%.

The rolling 5 year annualised performance figure was 7.8%, which also compares favourably with the Balanced Fund Benchmark of 6.5% and the All Ordinaries Accumulation Index of 7.0%.

The 5 year annualised performance figure of 7.8% comfortably beat the target performance of 4% plus CPI, which was 6.3%. All performance figures are net of all fees incurred in managing the portfolio.

The Investment Strategy takes into account the statutory need for the Foundation, being a Public Ancillary Fund (PuAF), to distribute 4% of the assets of the Fund, valued at 1st January each year, to the College.

These funds are being used to bolster the College’s scholarships and bursaries programme, which was $1 million in the 2015 year.

The Foundation Board thanks and acknowledges the special contribution of the Investment Committee comprising the Chairman Niall Cairns, as well as Committee members Russell Bye, Richard Dougan, Don Jamieson, Andrew Murray, Nick Palethorpe, Fred Woollard and Tom Yim.

Much time, effort and expertise has been contributed by the Committee to ensure the funds are professionally managed and are fully compliant with all regulatory requirements.

Special thanks go to long-serving members Don Jamieson and Tom Yim who decided to retire from the Committee during the 2015 year.

Andrew Murray has also resigned from the Investment Committee, but he will continue to report to the Committee on behalf of Ord Minnett, who have been recently reappointed by the Board as the professional portfolio managers and advisers to the Foundation and the Council.
