College Life

Students who come to live at St Andrew's College receive much more than accommodation. They become part of a vibrant College community where they will be mixing with others from diverse backgrounds, nationalities and beliefs and will make long lasting friendships and contacts. The College has a wide range of facilities, such as libraries, computer rooms, recreational areas and oval. A tutorial program is in place to assist first year students to successfully make the transition from school to University study methods. Other activities include debating, drama, a wide range of sports and musical groups.

In order to gain the most benefit from the College structure, the students should be prepared to contribute their talents towards one or several of the areas mentioned, be it academic, sporting or cultural, or several of these. They also have to learn to live in an atmosphere of tolerance, caring and mutual support, and the Students' Club (which is autonomous) plays a large part in developing these qualities.

Students are selected on the basis of:

- a. Academic merit
- b. Willingness to commit themselves to their studies
- c. Their potential to contribute to College life.

If you need any clarification on how to complete this form, please do not hesitate to contact the College.

Please comment on the application with reference to the information given about College life. Please make reference to the applicant's suitability for community living and readiness for University:
